

A Day In The Park

Tom is going for a walk in the park. Tom is feeling happy. He likes the park.

R: Where is Tom going?

I: Why does Tom feel happy?

Tom sees a man. The man throws litter into the pond. Tom calls the police.

R: Who does Tom see?

I: Why does Tom call the police?

The police come to the park. The police talk to the man. Tom walks along the path.

P: What do you think Tom will see next?

Tom sees a family. They are having a picnic. There is a BBQ. Tom sees some ash. It lands in the dry grass.

S: What are the family doing?

P: What do you think will happen to the ash?

The grass is set on fire. Tom calls the fire brigade. The firefighters come to the park. They put out the fire. Tom walks along the path.

Tom trips on a rock. He hurts his leg. Tom calls the ambulance. The ambulance comes to the park. The paramedics look at Tom's leg. It is only hurt a little bit.

I: Who looks at Tom's leg?

Tom goes home. He makes his dinner. He goes to bed. Tom dreams about his day.

P: Do you think Tom had a good day? Why?

E: Why do you think some words are underlined?

Answers

R: To the park

I: He likes the park

R: A man

I: The man is throwing litter into the pond

P: Accept prediction linked to the story, the location and the fact it is called "A day at the park"

S: Having a picninc/BBQ

P: Accept predictions that link to the ash landing in the grass and setting a fire.

I: The paramedics

P: Accept reasoned answers about his day.

E: Because they are tricky/topic words.