

Hello!

We will always start our Read Write Inc session learning a new sound or practising one we have looked at before, followed by practising reading words containing the sounds we know. Some of us are also ready to practise spelling some of the words we can read. The aim of the sessions is to be able to recognise letters and read words quickly, so we will revisit letters and words to get super confident.

NEW THIS WEEK: We have added some games for you to play this week. You will be able to use 'Fred Talk' to help you read the words. Hope you have lots of fun. 😊

Our stories this week are:

The Gruffalo's Child and Sharing a Shell by Julia Donaldson

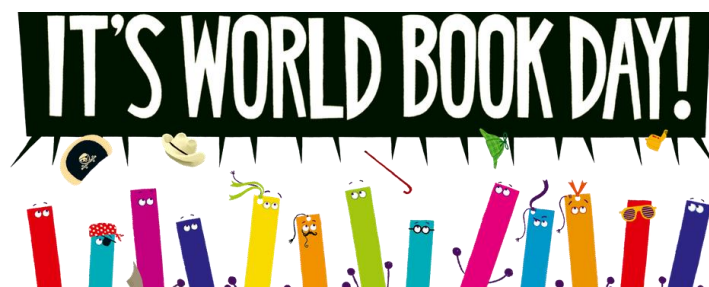

Activities:

- Make a rockpool from things in the garden or house
 - Make some playdough and make Blob, Brush and Crab from Sharing a Shell.
 - Can you help keep your room tidy and clean like Brush?
 - How many pairs of words can you find that rhyme in the stories?
- Practise writing some of the green words that are in the Extra Resources folder on the website or some of the words and sentences from your reading books. Remember to use a finger space between words in a sentence and read back what you have written to your grown up.
 - Practise writing letters using the letter formation rhymes
 - You do not need to print out the letter formation sheets but can use them as a guide. Some children will be best practising forming larger letters first on blank paper, saying the rhymes as they write.

- Try and write your first name and your surname? Remember to hold your pencil properly.

DON'T FORGET

ON THURSDAY 4TH MARCH

Free e-books

If we were at school children would have one Read Write Inc book per week to read at home. The same applies to the e books.

This week please can:

Red, Yellow & Green groups read Sound Blending 8 book.

Purple group read Ditty Sheet 14 'I can'

Orange group read Green Level Book 'Rag the rat'

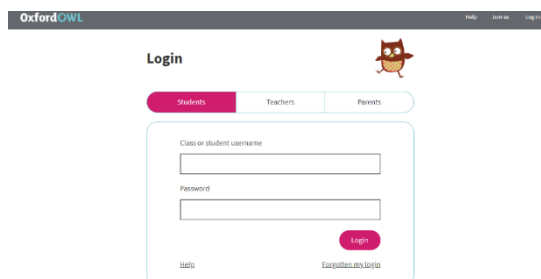

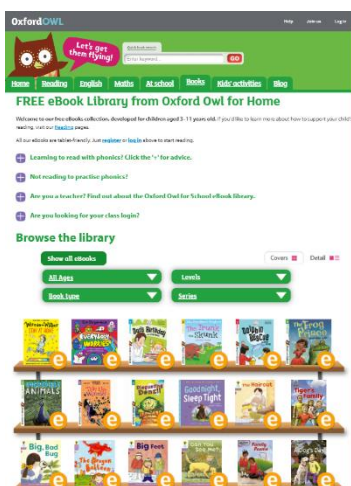

This is how to find them on the Oxford Owl website

Go to <https://www.oxfordowl.co.uk/for-home/find-a-book/library-page/>

It will look like the picture below

Your eBooks and Activities

The aim of reading these books is that children are able to read the words without sounding out every word, so lots of practise is key. It is OK to go back and re-read book from an earlier phase e.g. Orange group can read the Ditty Sheets as this builds children's confidence in reading.
